

SOCIETY NEWS and Gossip

MI-CAREME gave the week just passed the lacking touch of gaiety and brought with it a rapid succession of events. Of these, quite the most interesting was the marriage Thursday at high noon of Miss Helen Foulke to Belgium's new minister to Persia, Emmanuel Havenith, formerly counselor of the legation in Washington. The guest list included a splendid array of statesmen and diplomats and society maids and matrons generally, with a number of additional guests from nearby cities.

The Foulke home is noted for its artistic merit, and surely no bride of recent years in Washington has had a more beautiful setting for her wedding. The ceremony was solemnized in the famous tapestry gallery, which is situated on the drawing-room floor and runs north and south the full depth of the house. At the north end of the room hangs a magnificent tapestry piece which covers the entire wall. In front of this were placed two marble fountains and two tall ornate pillars, and towering above these a profusion of Annunciation lilies formed an altar before which the bridal party stood. The bride couple knelt before a white satin prie dieu adorned with standards of the lilies at either end. The seating of the guests, quite an innovation for a house wedding, and the stained glass windows which shed a mellow glow over the beautiful costumes of the women guests, gave the effect of a chapel and made the scene one long to be remembered. The Annunciation, the flower Miss Foulke chose as the key-note for the floral decorations, were in evidence throughout the house.

Following the ceremony the Minister and Mme. Havenith received their friends in the drawing-room, standing in an alcove banked high on either side with the lilies. The mantels in all the rooms were banked with the same flower, and the table at which the bridal party sat for the wedding breakfast was embellished with a huge centerpiece of lilies.

Yesterday the bridal couple sailed for a visit to the minister's home in Belgium before going to his far-away post of duty at Teheran, where Mme. Havenith will no doubt become a prominent figure in diplomatic circles. She is already well known abroad, having traveled extensively with her mother and sister.

There was an impromptu musicale at the French embassy Tuesday evening, following a dinner, when it developed that the Ambassador and Mme. Jussier had invited an artistic party. Mme. De Blanpre, wife of the French naval attaché, sang; Count Hatzfeldt, German counselor, played, as did Mrs. Randolph. Miss Marion Oliver sang, accompanied on the piano by her father, the Assistant Secretary of War. Miss Robeson also sang.

The Persian poet, Mirza Ali Kuli, Kahn, also entertained the guests for a while. A dozen or more other guests came after dinner.

THE departure of Mrs. Roosevelt for the South Thursday evening was an affair planned by her younger children, and she agreed to make the trip to please them. Mrs. Roosevelt is accompanied by Miss Hagner, Miss Ethel Roosevelt took for her special companion Miss Cornelia Landon, of New York, and Kermit and Archie are a host unto themselves.

The trip is exceedingly picturesque, and from the time the party boards the Mayflower at Vicksburg until the landing at New Orleans, from whence they will return by rail, new interests will be found almost hourly.

Theodore Roosevelt, jr., is spending a few days at the White House with his father, riding, driving, walking, and playing tennis.

With Congress in session, keeping the statesmen here until late, and the rather late departures of the diplomats for summer quarters, things are likely to be unusually gay for the next two months. In April, May, and June Washington is at its best and those who come here to spend the spring season will not be sorry. An interesting addition to the New York colony is Mrs. Lawrence Townsend and her daughter, Miss Yvonne Townsend, who have taken a house near Dupont circle for a few months.

LAST Monday marked the opening of the spring racing meet at Benning, and society has made the most of the pleasant weather during the week. There were many luncheon parties, followed by drives or automobile rides to the track, and later by teas at the clubhouse, and again the rides back to town.

Among the most frequent attendants are Miss Katherine Elkins, who drives out in a smart little car; Miss Mathilde Townsend, and Miss Isabelle May, who are usually together; Miss Evelyn Walsh, Representative and Mrs. Longworth, Representative and Mrs. Bourke Cockran, and a score or more of the younger diplomats.

Despite the legal battle that is being waged for the life of racing at Benning, there is no gainsaying the fact that the "sport of kings" has lost none of its interest for the elite, and as long as the "ponies" continue to "sport the silk," just so long will society continue its devotees.

Society is dramatically inclined this spring. Dates have already been announced for performances of the Paint and Powder Club, of Baltimore, and the Mask and Wig Club, of Pennsylvania, and the younger set is rehearsing daily in a businesslike manner for "The Prince of Pareschi," a play which is to be put on the week of April 20 for the benefit of the Junior Republic, under the direction of Miss Ruth Halford.

And in addition to all this, a number of prominent women in the Diplomatic Corps, as well as prominent society maids and matrons generally, are arranging a series of tableaux to be given at the Belasco Thursday and Friday afternoons.

White House

Mrs. Roosevelt and her party, including Miss Hagner, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, Miss Cornelia Landon, and Kermit and Archie Roosevelt, arrived at Vicksburg yesterday morning over the Southern railway. They took a drive through the national military park during the morning and during the afternoon embarked on the Mayflower for the trip down the Mississippi to the Gulf.

Cabinet

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Taft have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Horace Taft, of Columbus, Ohio. They arrived in the city yesterday for a short visit, and yesterday afternoon Mrs. Taft presented her guests to friends at an informal tea.

Mrs. Taft has not laid aside mourning for the Secretary's mother, but receives her intimate friends informally, and goes to small and informal dinners and luncheons with her friends.

The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. James R. Garfield are entertaining Mrs. John Newell and Miss Anna Newell, of Chicago, the mother and sister of Mrs. Garfield. They reached Washington yesterday and will remain here for a week or two.

Diplomatic

The Austrian Ambassador and Baroness Hengelmüller, who went to New York for a visit this week, accompanied by their daughter, Mlle. Milla Hengelmüller, will return to the embassy today.

The German Ambassador and Baroness von Sternburg will be accompanied to New York tomorrow afternoon by Miss Langham, sister of the baroness.

Senor Don Gonzalo de Quesada, the Cuban Minister, and Senora Quesada were hosts at a luncheon yesterday in their home on Massachusetts avenue in honor of Chancellor Caesar Darranco.

Two very interesting little Spanish plays are now being rehearsed in the home of the Misses Carbo, daughters of the minister from Ecuador. They will be given during Easter week. Those taking part in them are Miss Elena Calderon, Miss Mercedes Godoy, Miss Julia Deloz, the Misses Carbo, Frank Godoy, Albert Godoy, Mr. Dusan, of Ecuador; Mr. Macalle, of Manila, and Joe Carbo.

"Our Boys," a play of three acts, is being rehearsed in the home of Miss Mercedes Godoy twice each week. The date for the play has not been set yet. Those taking part in the play are Miss Georgia Knox, Miss Hannah Taylor, Miss Martha Calvo, Miss Mercedes Godoy, Walter Penfield, Harry Seay, Albert Godoy, and Frank Godoy.

Mrs. L. Z. Lettier entertained a dinner party last night in her residence, on Dupont circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany Dyer, of New York, who have a winter house here, were among the hosts entertaining at dinner last night. Mr. and Mrs. A. Garrison McClintock, also of New York, were other dinner hosts of the evening.

Unusual interest is being taken in Washington social circles in the production of "Conquering Cupid," the Dutch comic opera, which will be presented by the Paint and Powder Club, of Baltimore, at the Belasco Theater Monday, April 27. The performance will be given for the benefit of the Christ Child Society and already the call for seats and boxes promises that the affair will be a great financial as well as a social success.

Boxes have already been secured by Mrs. Elkins, Mrs. Dudley Warner, and Mrs. McCarthy.
